

UPON FURTHER REFLECTION...

THE INSPIRATION

When it came to translating Parul Gupta's guidelines into our original artwork, we were inspired by the idea of the internet.

We, as a civilization, have never known technological prowess as we do today - as we find ourselves in the midst of a 4th technological revolution termed - "The Internet of Things".

We present to you, the 3 dimensional design of a passage which we envision as a virtual reality experience. Our design intent behind this experience is to have a 10 foot tall, life sized structure - something that would be close to impossible to achieve in real life - to be made available to viewers at the touch of a button.

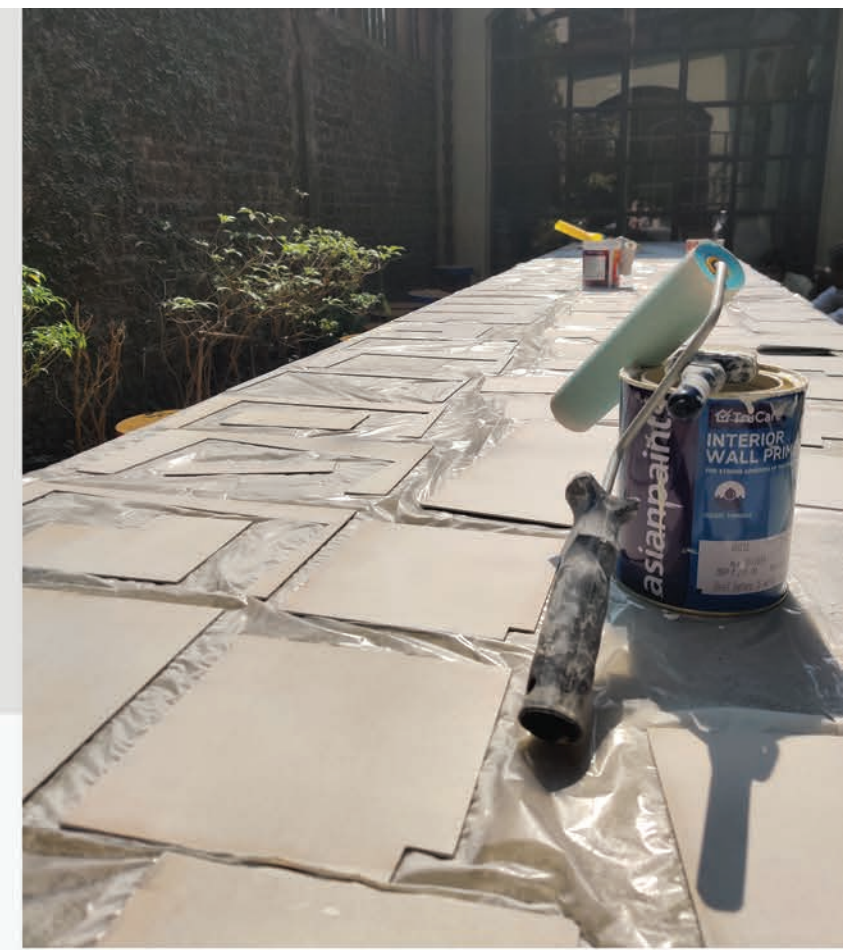

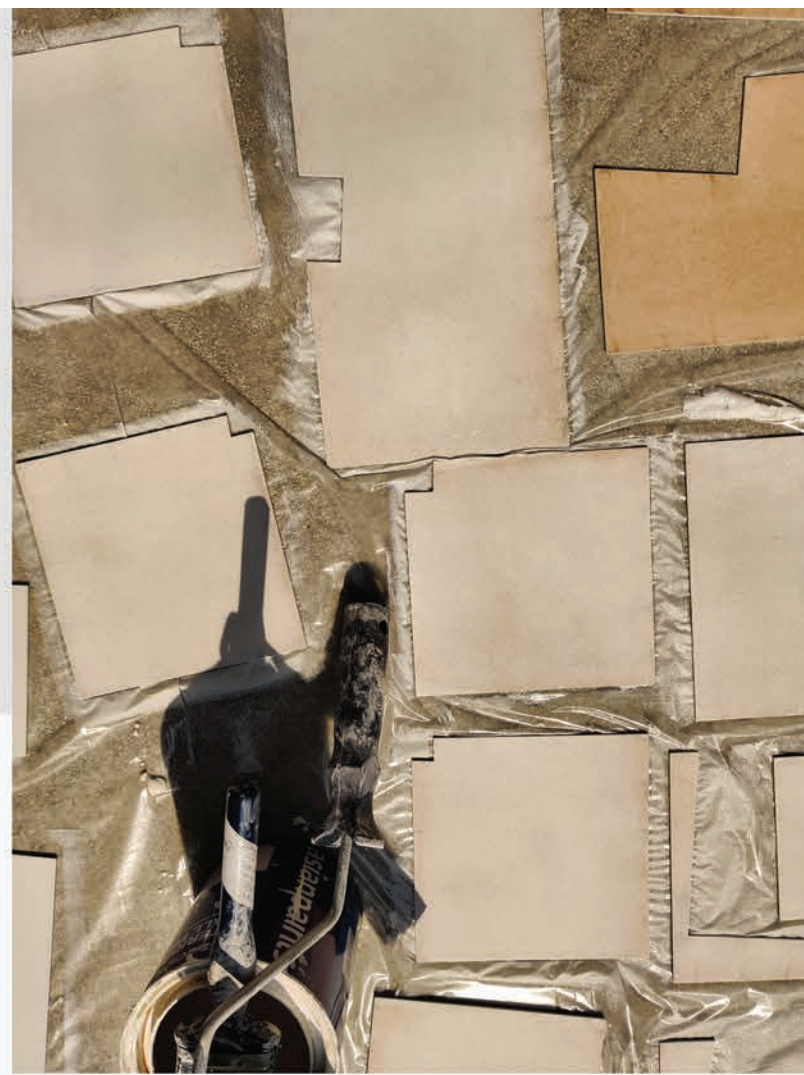

THE FORM

The design is modelled after the very nature of the internet. We perceive it as something simplistic from a distance but yet inescapable, which led us to create a 3 faceted installation.

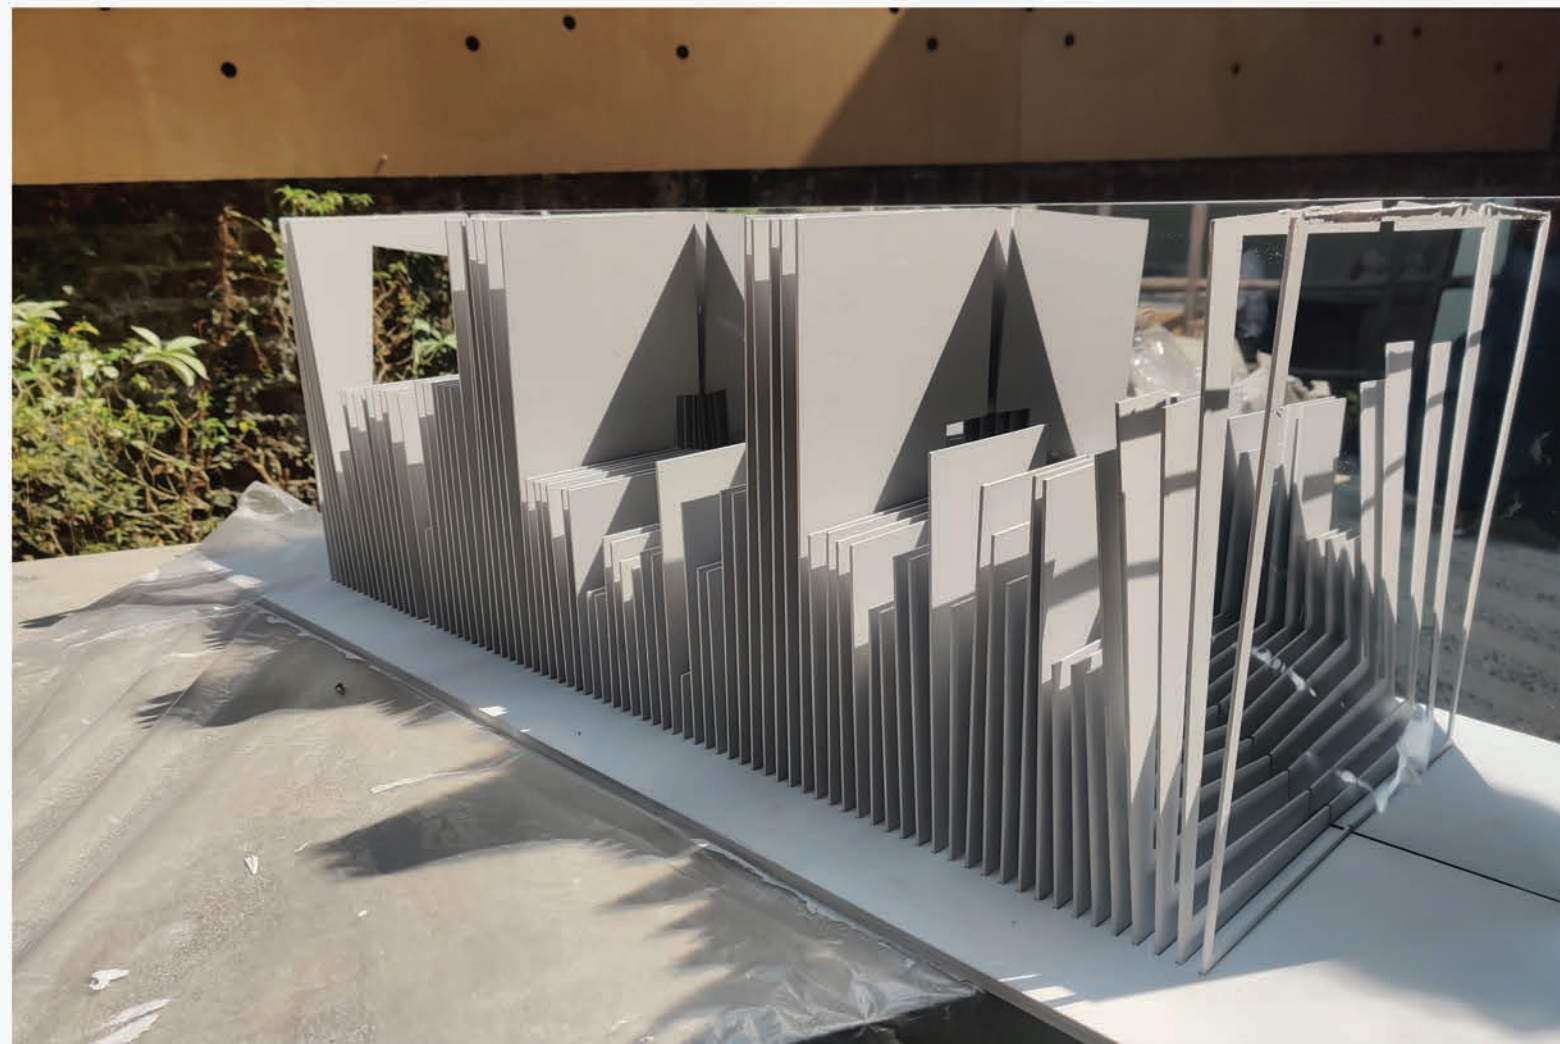

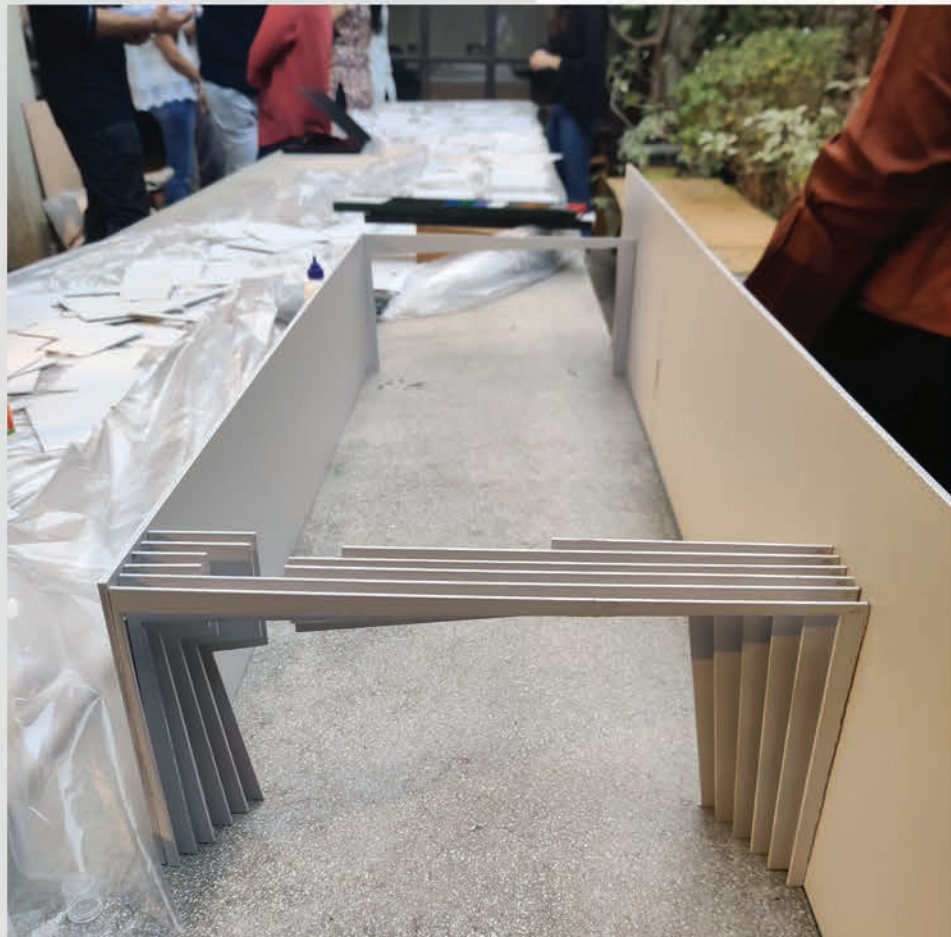

The 'breaks' are created by negative spaces, accompanied by a mirror, allowing viewers only a peak into the model and ultimately inviting them to experience it from the side.

The passage is designed to mimic an optical illusion, which draws the viewer closer and closer.

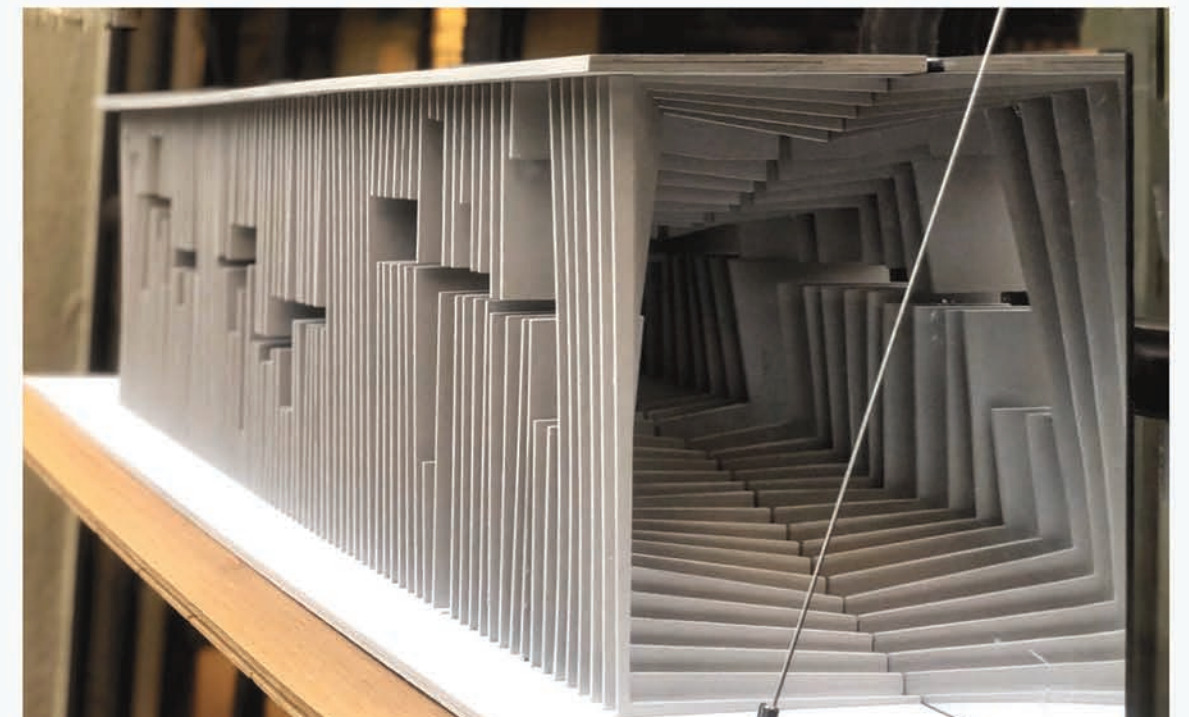

As for what the form actually looks like, we'll let the pictures do the talking...
